ANDREJ BOYADJIEV
WEB DEVELOPER

/ ABOUT ME /

I am a true full-stack web developer enthusiast. With strong will and passion to work with the newest technologies and to build products of highest quality. I am always looking for new interesting projects to apply my skills and to gain a lot more. Working in different sectors gave me deep investigation and strong analytical thinking for solving all kinds of problems. Everyday contacts with different of age and vision people are the reason for me to have good communication and team-working skills. Precise time-management, achieving results in short deadlines and scrum workflow are familiar to me.
